

Salik in a rental fleet

From the company account to the customer's invoice. For rental managers in Dubai

Set up once

- ☐ Every car in the fleet is on the company's Salik account, each with its own tag
 - ☐ Never move a tag from one car to another
 - ☐ New car: activate the tag before the first trip
 - ☐ Sold car: remove the tag and cancel it
- RTA, March 2026: the unified rental contract bans fees that aren't disclosed, for example extra charges for passing toll gates

Whose toll is it

A toll goes on a rental if the car passed the gate between key handover and the actual return

- Go by the time, not by the date
- Return in the morning, new handover in the evening: the evening toll goes to the new renter
- Don't charge a customer for a toll outside any rental

Every rental

- 1 At handover

☐ Record the actual time the keys go out: hour and minute
- 2 At return

☐ Record the actual return time

☐ Take the car's tolls and parking for the rental period

☐ Put them in the final invoice as separate lines

☐ Explain the direction to the customer: if the statement says "Abu Dhabi", the car passed the gate toward that side, not that it went to the city

☐ Customer asks about Salik: give the list of tolls for their rental, with time, gate and amount

If the car's tolls for the rental are not all in yet, the list is not final. Check again before you invoice

Once a week

- ☐ Enough on the balance for a normal week. If the balance runs short when a car passes a gate, you have 5 working days to top up, then a fine of AED 50
- ☐ Every toll in the statement has a rental or is marked "outside any rental"
- ☐ Every plate in the statement is one of yours
- ☐ Parking paid from the Salik account is matched to rentals too: Dubai Mall, DXB airport, Parkonic sites where Salik is enabled
- ☐ Every car on the road has an active tag. No active tag: 10 working days to activate one, then AED 100 for the first trip, 200 for the second, 400 for each one after
- ☐ Dispute fines you disagree with in time: the right lapses 13 months after the fine or when the car's registration is renewed, whichever comes first
